

Savlon Antiseptic Cream® is a licensed and finished product, which is exempt from the COSHH Regulations. Based on this, we have made the decision to no longer supply safety data sheets for our medicinal products.

As a general rule, these dosage forms do not present a hazard when handled in the normal way by your staff. Details relating to their therapeutic uses, storage, and instructions for use and handling, are to be found on the relevant Summary of Product Characteristics, which can be found at <http://www.emc.medicines.org.uk>, and are also provided in or on the individual bottles.

If accidental ingestion or overdose should occur, prompt medical attention should be obtained. If any of our products should become damaged or broken, or leak, they should be treated as special waste and cleaned away, avoiding contact with the skin and eyes and inhalation.
